The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING [illegible] 1875

WAS THE FIX MADE AFTER HAYES

The [illegible] Courier-Journal, a large [illegible] paper, [illegible] the [illegible] against the [illegible] in electing the [illegible] by asserting that [illegible] with [illegible] part [illegible] with [illegible] question of the constitutionality of the legal tender law was not [illegible] before the supreme court [illegible] Associate Justice Strong [illegible] that [illegible] the constitutionality of this law [illegible] this remark the correspondent [illegible] in this use the additional assertion that Strong [illegible] if [illegible] the [illegible] speaking [illegible] lawyer whose opinions are worth knowing, but his private views [illegible] great national questions known [illegible] people generally. In order to satisfy those who like Third Term think it was packing the court to appoint a man who was known to hold the opinion that the legal tender law was constitutional it would have been necessary to appoint one who was known to hold the opposite opinion, and no such man could be found [illegible] observers with [illegible] opinions [illegible] large majority of the Democratic party [illegible] of the Democratic party [illegible] will be held in substance that the legal tender law was constitutional during the war but became unconstitutional as soon as the war was over was the only opinion we recollect of being criticised very severely by any member of the profession. This opinion was laughed at all over the United States, as well by those who doubted the constitutionality of the law as by those who maintained its validity.

Grant has sins enough to answer for [illegible] charge across the [illegible] Grant's Democratic [illegible] of them [illegible] papers who are misinformed or who are prejudiced by attributing base and unpatriotic motives.

WHO ARE FIAT RAG MONEY FANATICS

Among the frequent exhibitions of cheek with which the Democratic press entertain the public we have witnessed none that surpasses this charge against the Republican party by the Salem Mercury.

The system of irredeemable currency fastened upon the country by the legislation of this party is another exemplification of its unworthiness.

While the Mercury out here in Oregon is taxing the Republicans with the crime of fastening an irredeemable currency on the country, the party to which the Mercury belongs is reading the act of the great states of Ohio and Pennsylvania with clamorous demands for more irredeemable paper, denouncing in unmeasured terms the efforts of the Republican party to resume specie payments. The bottomless pit of rag money philosophy has engulfed the Democracy of those great commonwealths and Sam Carey the chiefest among the apostles of financial idiocy, national dishonesty and irredeemable rags in their office. On this question the contest in Ohio hinges. A victory for the Democracy will be a victory for irredeemable currency without stint. A victory for the Republican party will be a victory for specie. And yet it is perfectly certain that should the electric current that flashes across the continent on the night of October 14th announce the triumph of the rag money Democracy in that state the Mercury will shout itself hoarse in delight. The only party in the United States it is [illegible] for specie instead of irredeemable shinplasters, is the Republican party. There are some among its members who [illegible] carried away with the unfathomable nonsense taught by the Democratic theorists are in favor of pouring out upon the country a deluge of [illegible] promises to pay and labelling them money, but the great majority, a majority that is strong enough to control the policy of the party are for honest money for money based on gold and silver coin, while the Democracy in most of the states declare for [illegible] issues of bogus paper money to maintain a significant silence on the subject.

THE FINANCIAL PROBLEM SOLVED

One of the three candidates who [illegible] running against Warren for Congress knows just how to settle the vexed question of resuming specie payments. All that is necessary is to place $50,000,000 of coin in the United States treasury for the purpose of redeeming greenbacks and the problem is solved and the hard money laws will [illegible] the elegant pictures with all the wealth of life like [illegible] and color ornamenting [illegible] for plain looking, and comforters more [illegible] and that the [illegible] would not [illegible] rushing that this simple and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

In the city alone the local money market has presented a very quiet and tranquil appearance all paper matured finding there in good demand but no extraordinary activity in any The features of caution economy and conservation which have been so prominent in all classes of trade still predominate and there is no disposition to make speculative risky ventures on the part of merchants in purchasing imported goods or shippers in clearing away produce This condition of affairs is worthy of remark and is the result of the experience of the past two years and low prices at which it will probably continue until the country has the assurance of a settled stable financial policy and consumption has overtaken production The work of supplying the wants of the people is the mainspring of business but this process so far as manufactures are concerned has been overdone at the east and it follows that the production must either be curtailed for a period or new markets must be found in other lands for the surplus The Atlantic states have heretofore done a great proportion of the manufacturing for the country but throughout the west and south there are evident signs of a growing interest in those industries which have made the northeastern section the great money center of the United States

A movement is now on foot in England looking to a reform in the volume and character of the bank currency of the United Kingdom The amount of bank notes in circulation [illegible] which must be added the [illegible] for the latter to [illegible] the volume of the circulating medium of Great Britain The currency requirements of that country are less than ours for the reason that the use of checks and bank credits are more general than here not only in wholesale dealings but in all the operations of retail trade which last is the principal employer of the circulating medium of all mercantile nations Still it is claimed by high authority that the volume of currency is inadequate and a capitalists the remedy of this with other efforts is taking place under the auspices of the Association of the Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom In connection with this effort it is also claimed that the gold basis of reserve in the Bank of England is so insufficient that the withdrawal of even a half million pounds forces the Bank of England to advance rates and thereby convulse trade It is also claimed that the Bank of England is an irresponsible arbitrary power, whose interests are opposed to the interests of the public that the manipulations of the rate of interest are so many rattlers of small traders for the benefit of great speculators The remedy proposed is a national bank of issue precisely the remedy proposed by the anti bullionists in this country

Europe's Wheat Demand.

An analysis of the latest European crop accounts shows the following facts That the population of the six principal wheat countries of that quarter of the globe is about 82 000 000 that their average requirement of wheat is 858 000 000 bushels or about three and seven tenths bushels per capita per annum that their average home supply of wheat is from 820 000 000 to 858 000 000 bushels and that their combined average deficit is from nothing to 38 000 000 bushels The requirement estimated for the current year is from 818 000 000 to 858 000 000 bushels that for the United Kingdom and France being placed below their average requirement in account of the observed fact that in years of less than an average yield of wheat those countries particularly France consume less wheat than usual The crop to meet this requirement is estimated at from 775 000 000 to 813 000 000 bushels leaving a deficit to be made good by importation from America of from 43 000 000 to 80 000 000 bushels

Market Review

The week so far has been marked by a greater activity in trade circles than was noted in last week The heavy importations of fall goods make a large show in the market and buyers from the interior are present in considerable numbers but purchases in the aggregate for the month are only moderately up to volume Prices are marked down on most imported wares to a very small margin and buyers find by investigation that but little would be gained by making a trip to San Francisco There is more of a disposition to make considerable purchases on dry goods and the like than on groceries which are held firm for all leading staples

In the produce market there are a few changes noted which are generally reductive Wheat is coming forward in very large quantities by rail and considerable by water The accumulation of this cereal here is larger than it has been before at any time since the season began and as the cargoes of the vessels now in the river will be completed are all secured a number of buyers are in different about purchasing heavily against their future wants Account of attitude of ranchers of full water houses every where on the river and railroads with a determination on the part of a great many farmers to wait a while as they say before selling while others prefer to dispose of their surplus at once to save interest and wastage the latter of which is sometimes an item of considerable importance when the grain is kept for a long time

Aside from wheat there are but few large transactions noticed in the produce While flour is thought to be low for the price of wheat we note the sale of 450 barrels for shipment to China at current rates The local trade is fair and exports to British Columbia and Alaska are encouraging in volume Oats are scarce and in good demand at our quotations The receipts of new barley are nominal and a choice article is much inquired for Provisions are in light receipt and scarcely equal the requirements of the local trade Fruits are plentiful at very moderate figures

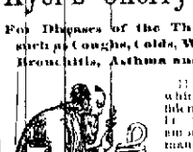
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.



The few cases of Throat Diseases which have won the confidence of mankind and the medical world, and are annually curing not only one but many not one but have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever sent forth to the public a remedy for Throat and Lung Diseases which gave such universal satisfaction as this. Wherever it has been known it has gained the confidence of all classes of people. Its cures are numerous and remarkable, and many of them are publicly known in every community. Hence it is that we do not publish certificates of cures performed by this medicine, but refer the afflicted to their neighbors and friends for proof of its virtues. Nothing but the best medicine could have obtained and retained the unbounded confidence and praise which have been bestowed upon this Cherry Pectoral. While it will control and subdue the most distressing coughs, colds, and lung troubles, it will also loosen and relieve the system of the disease, and enable Nature to throw off the disease. Keep the bowels open, the liver active, and the blood pure, and health will follow the use of this medicine. Prepared by

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY & COLOR

Advancing years bring with them a certain change in the color of the hair. Almost imperceptibly to the individual, the locks lose their original hue, and become first gray, then white. This change is looked upon by many as inevitable, and they submit to it as they do to the wrinkles which it brings in its train. But this should not be. Science has robbed age of many of its terrors, and this is one of them. We can restore to gray hair its youthful color, as certainly as we can to the cheek the bloom of health. Nor is the restoration a mere superficial coloring, which shall wash off, rub off, or fade away, after a few applications. It is permanent, as long as the hair roots remain alive. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves to the hair its beauty and vitality to the last. Its fragrance is delightful, and it contains no ingredient that can injure the most delicate lady or child. Thousands of gray-haired people have restored the color of their hair by the use of this preparation, and have thereby escaped the ridicule to which they were subjected by their premature old appearance. Thousands of others, whose hair was falling off, have had their heads clothed with new and luxuriant growths by the use of this Vigor. Ayer's Hair Vigor is the best dressing for the hair ever used. It is not only the cheapest, but the only preparation that can be relied upon to restore gray hair to its original color. It will at once check the falling of the hair, and cause a new growth to appear. Baldness is generally the result of the exhaustion of the nutritive organs of the hair, and a restoration of the secretions is necessary to the production of a new growth of hair. Ayer's Hair Vigor supplies the nutriment required, and never fails to produce the desired effect. Those who have used this Vigor for years, and have then left off using it, have had occasion to regret the step, as their hair has invariably fallen off, or become thin and gray. Keep your hair, if you have it, and restore it to its youthful color, if it is gray. Ayer's Hair Vigor will do it.
